

Stay Alert!

- Do not sleep-walk into totalitarian government...
- There is a difference between leadership and dictatorship...
- Beware the use of conditioning to get you to comply/obey...

The Governments of the UK are doing this through:

- A) neuro-linguistic programming - language to command: e.g.
“stand here”... & use of command slogans:

stay at home” / “protect the NHS” / Save lives”

- B) creating “herd” instinct - you want to be part of the crowd / have a sense of group or national pride...

“We’re all in this together”

Fact-Check...

At time of this writing (end of the first week in June), official Scottish government statistics place the death toll of those who tested positive for the virus at around 2,300. That number equates to a tiny 0.04% of the Scottish population and would doubtless be lower yet had post-mortem examinations not been suspended for the duration along with the standard requirement for a second doctor to verify cause of death.

Of this relatively small number of deaths at least 50% have been elderly people locked down in care homes while the remaining 50% have generally succumbed as a result of compromised immune systems. In fine, these deaths could occur even with seasonal flu, which, you may have noticed, has gone on vacation this year!

Exactly the same can be said of the UK as a whole in which 39,000 deaths from a population of 66 million equates to a comparatively minuscule percentage, a fact exemplified by 40% of acute NHS hospital beds currently lying empty for the first time in decades. Hardly a deadly plague upon us!

Stay Alert! Inform Your Friends! Speak Out!

It is important to keep ourselves fully informed at this time, and not allow ourselves to drift or sleep-walk into unthinkingly obeying our politicians. History shows that politicians do not give up powers which they have taken supposedly on a “temporary” basis to deal with a “crisis”. Do not, therefore, accept the removal of our civil and religious freedoms indefinitely - which is what is meant by “the new normal”. Check out good internet sites, for reliable information, including <https://catholictruthblog.com/>

St Andrew, Patron of Scotland, & St Margaret, Queen of Scotland, pray for us!